

THE OTHER TEN COMMANDMENTS

- I. NO switching rooms.
You must stay in your assigned room. We have to be able to locate everyone in case of an emergency.
- II. Be in your assigned room by 11:30 p.m.
Not in the halls, or on the balcony. Show respect for other hotel guests by keeping the noise level down.
- III. Keep the door wide open when the opposite sexes are together in a room.
Need there be any other explanation?
- IV. No smoking, alcohol, or drugs!
A person caught with this contraband will be sent home!
- V. Bring your BIBLE!
You will need it!
- VI. Be on time for all programs.
You don't want to miss anything! Everyone (leaders too!) is expected to participate.
- VII. Clean up after your meal or any other mess that you make!
Hey, cleanliness is next to Godliness! Be courteous, pick up your stuff.
- VIII. Always wear a name tag.
Wear it where it can easily be seen above the waist. Also this is your meal ticket.
- IX. Don't throw it, drop it, spill it, or damage it!
It may be tempting, but don't throw anything off of the balconies. Leave the room numbers on the door. Anyone caught damaging anything will be billed for it and sent home.
- X. Don't leave the hotel during the retreat!
Use the buddy or triad system. Be careful when out and about.

Dress Code: The same as your school's dress code. Modesty is the rule!
"Is this okay to wear?"

Consider these guidelines: 1. Would it meet my school's dress code? 2. Touch the sky..touch your toes...if anything shows...it doesn't go! 3. Keep the "under" in underwear...underwear stays where intended...under your clothes. 4. When we reveal ourselves to others we are giving ourselves away, and once given, can't be taken back. 5. Be your own person. Consider Jesus saying, "You've heard it said, 'But everyone dresses like this!' I say to you, "Why do you want your bra strap/boxers/belly to show? What do you want people to think when they see it? What might they be thinking that you weren't counting on?"

Remember, no skimpy, yellow or white swimsuits.

Dance and Talent Show : No "dirty dancing". Bumping and grinding not permitted! Hey make room for the Holy Spirit! No cross dressing for the skits.
